Dear Mr./Mrs.,

I read with interest your posting for the Entry Level Software Engineer on indeed.com. I believe I have necessary skills you are looking for that position and make a valuable addition to the company.

As my resume indicates that I am recent post grade from George Brown College in Computer Programmer Analyst. I have good experience working with Java language and made good amount of small and big scale projects for my study purposes.

I am very enthusiastic and hard-working person and worked in team for several survival jobs. My ability to adapt difficult situation and find solutions will be my strong hand in your company.

I am looking forward to hear back from you soon.

Sincerely,

Vipulkumar Chaudhari
